AFTERNOON TEA & TOUR

Next time, why not add on a National Theatre tour to your afternoon tea?

Preparation for the shows, including rehearsals and prop and costume-making, all happen on site. Explore the unseen areas of the theatre and have a glimpse into what's happening behind the scenes.

Afternoon Tea and tour £35 per guest

Available Monday - Saturday at 2.30pm, 3pm or 3.30pm

Must be booked in advance.

AFTERNOON TEA

A twist on a classic afternoon tea inspired by the National Theatre's most celebrated shows.

£26.50 per guest

CURTAIN UP!

It's delightful and delicious

A lovely combination of peaches and fizz – the perfect start!
(It's De-Lovely - Anything Goes)

Lady Bracknell Triangles

Cucumber and cream cheese sandwiches on white bread – not to be eaten until Aunt Augusta arrives.
(The Importance of Being Earnest)

The Guvnor Sandwich

As offered up in One Man, Two Guv'nors: a hummus sandwich - wholemeal bread with cheeky carrot and spicy cumin.

Stromboli

Nothing to fear here from Pinocchio's fire-eater – it's a tasty spinach, olive and mozzarella pastry.

Mrs Lovett's Meat Pie

A deliciously crumbly pork and onion pie – more wholesome than Sweeney Todd's.

INTERVAL

From the on-stage kitchen of Foodwork: take your pick: G&T sorbet or Amarena cherry and chocolate ice cream, You'd be as Mad As Hell not to!

ACT 2

Salieri's Macarons

Indulge your taste buds with a pink macaron as Salieri does in Amadeus.

Angel (s In America) Cake

The stars and stripes (and cake) forever!

NT AND SCONES

An unmissable classic: homemade scones with rich clotted cream and strawberry jam.

Served with a selection of classic organic teas, freshly ground coffee and herbal tisanes.

FINISH YOUR AFTERNOON TEA WITH A GLASS OF:

Mas de la Source Reserve Rosé – £6.00 (175ml)
Chateau Simon, Sauternes – £9.00 (100ml)
Espresso Martini – £8.50

Or make an afternoon of it with a bottle of:

Nyetimber Brut Reserve – £65.00
Mas de la Source Reserve Rosé – £22.50

A discretionary gratuity of 12.5% will be added to your bill
